

SPIRIT OF JEZEBEL | GODDESS MOVEMENT

Dr. Stephen R. Phinney

Did you know the Goddess Movement is the fastest-growing religion in America?

The Goddess movement is also known as Wicca. Yes. It is true. Goddess spirituality, or the craft, appears to be the fastest-growing religion in America. Less than a generation ago, only a handful of Wiccans made their religion public. Most hid their craft behind closed doors, much like the Satanist. Once the internet became an open forum to recruit and state their not so public beliefs, followers multiplied exponentially. Now with feminists being seated in society as the leading culture group, Wiccans were able to “reinvent” their “post-feminist” movement.

Their term “post-feminist” empowers feminists with the power needed for their newfound role in modern culture. As they claim, it is the next step for a feminist – “Christian” or otherwise.

Goddesses—who may also call themselves witches, capitalize on the “white” part of magic. Although, it needs to be noted that the newer generation of goddesses strays from the title or reference as witches – particularly those who self-claim Christianity. Those within the Goddess movement neither worship Satan directly nor practice the sort of malicious magic traditionally associated with “black witches.” The concept of “white” & “black” magic is based on the Tree of Knowledge of “good and evil.” Members of the Goddess movement make use of this passage to advocate “magic can be used for the good.” The deception is - both sides of the Tree of Knowledge get their orders from Satan. Members of “black-magic” give Satan credit directly, whereas the Goddess group indirectly gives Satan credit by way of making use of the magic Satan offers.

The main objective for goddesses is to advance female deity over that of males, minimally female deities first and then male. Most claim God had a wife, Asherah, which suggests she was worshiped alongside Yahweh in his temple in Israel. BUT...researched proved Asherah was a tree idol (possessed by a Phoenician goddess spirit) commissioned by Ahab, Jezebel's husband, to be a goddess to sit alongside the throne of Baal (Jezebel's father). Furthermore, all the prophets (400+ of them) were required to serve Asherah first and then Baal (1 Kings 18:19).

Female deities are not new to our world. You can trace the feminist movement back to Semiramis, the wife of Nimrod. Who was Nimrod? Well, he was the grandson of Ham, son of Noah. While it seems weird to us, Nimrod's mother and wife were two of the same, Semiramis. According to historical records, and various legends, Semiramis required Nimrod to build a statue of her, and place it at the bottom of the tower of Babel. While the tower was being constructed, on full moons, all the people needed to stop and worship her. Another unnerving fact, she became pregnant after engaging in an adulterous affair while married to Nimrod. Around this same time, Nimrod dies a violent and untimely death. In an effort to retain power and to hide her misdeeds, Semiramis makes a most audacious claim, one that would set the stage for the Babylonian cults throughout all the ages. She publicly declares that upon Nimrod's death, he had been resurrected as the god of the Sun. As the Sun-god, Nimrod used his sun rays to inseminate Semiramis with a child miraculously. This child was thus considered to be divinely conceived. The child's name was Tammuz, which she claimed was the reincarnated Nimrod. Sound familiar?

After the scattering that occurs at the Tower of Babel, this story of the miraculous conception of this child disseminated throughout the world. It led to the rise of the various birth-death-rebirth cults that are littered through history. These mystery religions of future generations adopted different names for Semiramis and her child, Tammuz – who became known throughout the ages as the father of all goddesses. Oh, by the way, even though Semiramis was the daughter of Ham, cultist and goddess alike state her as the daughter of a goddess. Keep in mind, gods/goddesses were humans until reincarnated. Semiramis's mother supposedly had mermaid-like features with the head of a woman and the body of a fish. Really? Something sounds fishy about this story. Seriously, this is the first documented story of the birth of the goddess movement.

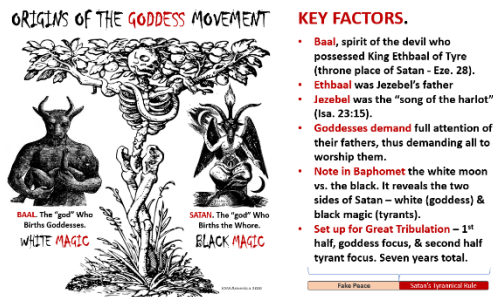

The classic Greeks (5th–4th century BC) popularized, organized, and moved the secret society from the dark rooms of myein to the public. Early Christianity (the Seven Churches) watched the Greeks and the Roman State-Church move these pagan images from the closest to adorning their buildings. The leaders of these pagan goddesses, now adorning their structures, were pressuring early Christians to pay homage to these naked idols of sexuality before entering their churches - literally. Interestingly enough, Christ Himself addressed/warned five out of the Seven Churches regarding this issue.

Unlike the modern Millennial Goddess movement, their religion's earliest adherents worshipped two deities, one of each sex: "the Mother Goddess, the birth giver, who brings into existence all life," and the "Horned God," a male hunter who died and was resurrected each year. Male shamans "dressed in skins and horns in identification with the God and the herds," but priestesses "presided naked, embodying the fertility of the Goddess." In return, the goddesses would use the hunter (males) to accomplish their objectives – much like what Jezebel accomplish through her husband Ahab and her sons.

Outside of "Eve," Jezebel was Satan's most elevated woman. Jezebel was the queen with Ahab. The Lord remembers her for destroying the Prophets of God (1 Kings 18:4). She was so destructive; Obadiah took a hundred prophets and hid them by fifties in caves. She despised Elijah the most. Why? He was an immovable male leader that demonstrated the immovability of God the Father – whom she hated. For this very reason, she worked tirelessly to turn the Hebrew people to the "god" Baal – a male god who births goddesses. Or...to put it into proper Biblical worldview, to worship the spirit of her father, Tyre King Ethbaal. It should also be noted that during much of the Old Testament, Satan was the king of Tyre (Eze. 28). There is a direct connection between Satan and the goddess movement – past & present.

As tradition has it, Satan would possess key leaders and rule his domain of darkness through mortal flesh by way of advancing female rights. He began this method of deception by elevating Eve and will end his empirical demise through elevating a whore (Rev. 17:15). Also, keep in mind, Satan is not only a “god of darkness,” but he is also an “angel of light.” Meaning, he doesn’t show his real colors upfront. He does, however, appear to all as a goddess type figure, which God references as the great whore. (Rev. 19:2)

A question must be asked, “Why does Satan relentlessly prostitute women to advocate his end-times goals?” First, we need to remember that “nothing is new under the sun.” Secondly, Satan is a simple-minded leader. He sticks to what works. In the garden, he went directly for the woe-man because of one fact – she was created as, and from a secondary source of Adam – his side. Allow me to remind you of one of the most basic principles in the Bible. The “woe” part of organic “woeman” means “weakness.” In Ancient Hebrew, when you put them together, you have the weaker part of man. Not because she is lesser than, but yes, because she was created from Adams's most fragile mortal flesh – his side, by way of a rib.

It is recorded that 100% of all references to a woman is a secondary derivative of man – woman, she, her, female, and even goddess. Yes. You guessed it. Goddess is a secondary of god, a male divine. Hopefully, you see the obvious. In the end, there will be a standoff between two male god figures, Satan (father of lies), and YHWH, God the Father (Father of Truth-Jesus). If you have been keeping up with your studies in the book of Revelation, you know who wins!

Why does God use the title of “a great whore” in depicting the fake church?

Since the days of the original Babylon, men have prostituted women for one horrid reason. Money! OK, maybe one other reason – power. In Modern Hebrew, man means “penetrator,” and woman means “penetrated.” To help us understand our topic, we need to review two negatives of each definition. First, the “penetrator” can form harm via rape, promiscuity, or generalized lust. Secondly, he can use the “penetrated” to match the most significant appetites of the “penetrator.” For a price, that is - prostitution.

As for the “penetrated,” it is equally as ugly. Women have used sex to get what they want from the early days of creation. Was that too ugly for you? Well, try this on for size. Unless sexual relations is an expression of shared love ordained by God through His standards, it falls into the category of whoredom. As our passage is about to reveal to us, Jezebel type women have learned to use man’s most significant appetite as a “penetrator” to get what she wants.

One of the seven churches got in “trouble” with Jesus over this issue.

“But I have this against you, that you tolerate the woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess, and she teaches and leads My bond-servants astray so that they commit acts of immorality and eat things sacrificed to idols. I gave her time to repent, and she does not want to repent of her immorality. Behold, I will throw her on a bed of sickness, and those who commit adultery with her into great tribulation, unless they repent of her deeds. And I will kill her children with pestilence, and all the churches will know that I am He who searches the minds and hearts; and I will give to each one of you according to your deeds. But I say to you, the rest who are in Thyatira, who do not hold this teaching, who have not known the deep things of Satan, as they call them—I place no other burden on you. (Rev. 3:19-24)

The name Jezebel has come down through the centuries. It is a generalized name for all wicked women who demand others to worship them. In modern usage, the name Jezebel is sometimes used as a synonym for sexually promiscuous, controlling women, feminists, womanists, and participates of the goddess society. The critical difference between feminist and womanist is – feminists are usually white, and womanist are typically black. Both carry the same message, “I am no man’s slave.” There is an irony in all this - the Jezebel movement might be touting “white magic” and all, but if you get one mad, you might see a little “black magic” spring forth.

Bottom line, there is nothing new under the sun!

From a Biblical point of view, to connect the modern goddess movement with the spirit of Jezebel, and the story of Semiramis is a “no-brainer.” The real challenge is in helping people connect the “fastest-growing religion in America” with the whore Jesus speaks out against in the book of Revelation.

“BECAUSE HIS JUDGMENTS ARE TRUE AND RIGHTEOUS; for He has judged the great harlot who was corrupting the earth with her immorality, and HE HAS AVENGED THE BLOOD OF HIS BOND-SERVANTS ON HER.” (Revelation 19:2)

The great offense to God is fundamental and undeniable. Even though He gave us plenty of warnings and a boat-load of stories of how this whore corrupts the earth, the masses simply unsubscribe from God and move on.

Neopagan goddesses tend to be white, middle-class, highly educated, and politically involved in liberal and environmental causes. They love mystic arts, such as yoga, shamanism, contemplative nature, and divine intelligence coming from the “core” of self, culture & humanity.

Special note. When “Christians” engage in yoga or any other “core” manifestation arts, they swap the atman (cosmic self) for the spirit of a christ. Both are demonic.

Here is our bottom line, the goddess movement is nothing short of a matriarchal religion, purposing to “back-seat” male-driven divines – particularly any group that claims God is a He or Jesus is a He. These terms replace its previous label, post-feminist movement (the 70s). In the late 70s, they worked to “reinvent” a religion to glorify the woman. It is often tied into Wicca, neopaganism, or other New Age beliefs. Their religion and cultural movement are based on a peer-review claim that all cultures were once matriarchal. Not! I will give them this – the next generation is sure to be matriarchal.

That matriarchal culture is now sweeping the globe like a plague of the locus. Without question, this movement is setting the stage for the queen of the end times - for He (Jesus) has judged the great harlot who was corrupting the earth with her immorality. If you hear of anyone who touts Matriarchal spirituality or governance, run quickly, hide – for there is a queen bee chasing you, and her sting is to be feared. In the first half of her Seven Year Reign, she will offer you her “white magic,” but in the second half – nothing but “black magic.”

The trending Goddess Movement is nothing short of our enemy setting up for the first 3 ½ years of the seven-year reign of the Antichrist. Eschatology is easy for those who have ears to hear. Let’s all stop & listen – for the great “I Am” is speaking. Since Satan is a shemale, connecting the dots of this ideology is made easy if we hear our Father’s voice.
